Professional Capability Statement

Overview

Andrea Guzman, LMFT provides independent educational mental health evaluations for California school districts, charter schools, SELPAs, and families seeking comprehensive assessment of students' social-emotional and behavioral functioning.

With experience providing school-based mental health services, Andrea specializes in evaluating how emotional, behavioral, and mental health needs impact a student's ability to access education and benefit from their educational program.

Services are provided with a collaborative, student-centered, and legally informed approach consistent with special education evaluation practices.
